

INDEX

TO THE

HUNDRED AND FORTY-FOURTH VOLUME OF THE QUARTERLY REVIEW.

A.

- Abinger, the first Lord, and the Bar, 1—early years, 2—at Trinity College, Cambridge, 2, 3—friendship with John Baynes, 5—with Porson, 7—Romilly, ib.—course of study in the Temple, 8—called to the Bar, 9—joins the Northern Circuit, 10—marriage, 13—King's Counsel, 14—on public speaking, 15—compared with Lord Brougham, 20—opening speech at Durham on the non-tolling of the bells, 23—his skill as a tactician, 25—influence with a jury, 27—treatment of briefs, 28, 29—on cross-examination, 30—on parliamentary eloquence, 32—estimate of his talents in parliament, 37—elected for Peterborough, 38—hostility to the press, 39—change of politics, 40—elected for Norwich, 43—his skill in advocacy, 44—second marriage and death, 45.
- Adams, W. Bridges, English pleasure carriages, 415—improvements in carriages, 420—on tramways, 431.
- Aleardi, Aleardo, Count, 451—his 'Arnalda di Roca,' 452-455—political aim of his work, 457—the 'Seven Soldiers,' 458.
- Andrewes, Bishop Launcelot, on the Ordination Service, 552.
- Arcachon, oyster beds at, 484.
- Argyll, Duke of, on a war of intervention, 288.
- Arnaboldi, Alessandro, his poems, 468-474. See Italian Poets.
- Art and Archaeology in Rome, Recent Discoveries in, 46—changes in the Coliseum, 47—subterranean corridor, 48—discovery of sculptures, 50—the Sacra Via, 51—equestrian statue of Vol. 144.—No. 288.

- Domitian, 52—Rostra Julia, 53—remains of the temple of Castor and Pollux, 53—basement of the temple of Vesta, 53—extension of the Marmertine prisons, 55—palace of Domitian, 58—of Augustus, 59—the crypto porticus, 59—the house of Germanicus, 60—baths of Caracalla, 61—discoveries in the house of Maecenas, 64—the columbarium of Statilius, 65-68—the Agger, 68—relics of the worship of Mithras, 69—site of the ancient Porta Capena, 70—landing-places under the Aventine, 70—excavations at Trastevere, 71—under the church of San Clemente, 71, 72—St. Petronilla, 73—Oratory disinterred from the Monte della Giustizia, 74—Catacombs, 74—artistic treasures found in the neighbourhood of Santa Maria Maggiore, 75-78—the bronze Hercules of the Vatican, 78.
- Artisan population in England, its present attitude, 405.
- Augustus, palace of, at Rome, 59.
- Auricular Confession, 273. See Ridsdale Judgment.
- Austin, Alfred, Poems, 499—'The Season,' 501—'The Golden Age,' 502—'The Tower of Babel,' 503—'The Human Tragedy,' 504—influence of Byron, 508—compared with Byron, 509—with Lucan, 510—poetical rhetoric rather than poetical oratory, 511.
- Aventine, the quays and landing-places discovered under, 70.

B.

- Baker, Lt.-Col. James, 'Turkey in Asia,' 223—on crossing the Balkans, 223, 224.
- Balkan passes, the, 223-227.

- Barlow, Prof., ingenious experiments on terrestrial magnetism, 143.
 Baynes, John, 4—his friendship with Scarlett, 5—death, 7.
 Bird, Miss I. L., 'Hawaiian Archipelago,' 204—her ascent of Kilanea, 205.
 Boenf, M., the first discoverer of oyster culture, 484. See Fisheries.
 Brougham, Lord, speech at Durham on the non-tolling of the bells, 23, 24.
 Buller, Justice, his knowledge and quickness, 10.

C.

- Cæsarism, Romanism, Socialism, 380.
 —, the military ideal, 382. See Ideals.
 Cairns, Prof., on the cost and value of skill, 117, 118—on the 'idle rich,' 127.
 Capitoline Museum, the, artistic treasures collected in, 75-78.
 Caracalla, the baths of, recent discoveries in, 61-63.
 Carducci, G., early poems and love of artistic form, 460—radicalism and socialism, 461—his 'Carnevale,' 461-463. 'Hymn to Satan,' 463-465.
 Carriages, Roads, and Coaches, 413—names for carriages, 415—carriage-building, ib.—necessity for a technical education, 416—woods, leather, varnish, 416—American work, 417—'Draft Book of Centennial Carriages,' 418—the 'lines,' 419—cushions, 420—springs, 420, 421—varnishing, 421—carriage furniture for the outside traveller, 422—harness, 423—Roads, ib.—McAdam's system of pavement for country roads, ib.—mistaken weight of steam-rollers, 424—relative merits of granite, asphalt and wood, 425—accidents to horses, 425-427—draught and foot-hold, 427—durability of wood-pavement, 428—noise and vibration, 429—traffic, 430—Tramways, ib.—their construction, 431—on American principles, 432—Omnibuses, ib.—weight and quickness, 434—the old Mail Coach, 434, 435—rate of speed, 436-438—luggage and parcels, 437—drivers and coachmen, 438—bearing-reins, 440—coaching-renaissance, 440—financial results, ib.—chariotteering in America, 441—dead weight, 442—amateur driving, 442, 443—the 'Coaching Club,' 443—modern drags, ib.—the

- coachman's cushion, 444—superfluous noise, ib.
 Carter, Canon, of Clewer, on the Ridsdale Judgment, 255.
 Castor and Pollux, the temple of, remains discovered, 53.
 Catacombs discovered in Rome, 74.
 Changarnier, General, at the Review of Satory, 343—offered the sword of Constable, 344—dismissed, 346—arrested, 348.
 Charles X.'s indifference during the revolution, 323—abdicates in favour of the Duc de Bordeaux, 324—at Rambouillet, 326, 327—etiquette about the table, 328—embarks from Cherbourg, ib.
 Chauvin, G. von, on postal telegraphs, 172.
 Clifford's, Prof., attacks upon Christianity, 530—criticises the New Testament, 531—on cosmic emotion, 532.
 Coaches, 434. See Carriages, &c.
 Coffin, Anne, letters from her brother Humphrey Prideaux, 84, 85. See Prideaux.
 Coliseum, the, its past and present aspect, 47—discoveries under the direction of Prof. Rosa, 48—sculptures, 51.
 Columbaria, discovery of, near the Porta Maggiore, 65-68.
 Confession, Notes on, 281—Ritualistic practices, 262-269. See Ridsdale Judgment.
 —, compulsory, 553. See Ordination, &c.
 Co-operation, 408—its difficulties, 409-411—failure of the Onseburn Engineering Company, 410—workmen employed for a daily wage by the Rochdale Pioneers' Society, 410.
 Co-operative works at Onseburn, collapse of, 137.
 Comte, Auguste, system of Positive Philosophy, 535. See Republic.
 Crab fisheries, 482. See Fisheries.
 Cross-examination, Lord Abinger's opinion on, 30.

D.

- Danson, J. T., on the rent of land according to its locality, 114, 115.
 Danube, the difficulties of crossing on the Roumanian side, 214-220.
 Domitian, equestrian statue of, 52—palace of, at Rome, 58.
 Dunning (Lord Ashburton) as a debater, 35.
 Duplex telegraphy, 169-172.

E.

- Eastward position, the, 272.
 Economic 'Laws,' and Economic Facts,
 107—the Ricardian theory of Rent,
 110—origin of agricultural Rent, 111
 —'natural and indestructible power' in land, 114—locality, ib.—the value of skill, or skilful labour, 117—influx of gold, 120—the silver panic, 123—
 Sir A. Musgrave on the gold discoveries, 124—luxuries, 126—the 'idle rich,' 127—paper acknowledgments, 131—instance of the baker,
 132—Mrs. Fawcett's illustrations, 133, 134—combination of labourer and capitalist, 135—collapse of the co-operative works at Ouseburn, 137.
 Electrical standard measure, its designations, 150—resistance, 151, induction, 152.
 Electricity, the Science of, as applied in Peace and War, 138—Prof. Hanstein's theory of the four poles, 140—terrestrial magnetism, 142, 143—its algebraic symbols, 144—ingenious nomenclature, 145—voltaic, or current electricity, 146—Galvani's discovery, 147—Volta's continuous current, ib.
 —electrical energy, 149—names of its standard measure, 149—meaning of the designations, 150, 151—electrical resistance, conductors, in-sulators, 151—induction, 152—condensers, 153—origin of the Leyden jar, ib.—rate of transmission by submarine telegraphs, 155—speed of electricity, ib.—Franklin's experiment, 156—Richmann's fatal result, ib.—lightning-conductors, 157—160 —effects of the 'return-stroke' on the Pidgeon family, 161—manufacture of submarine cable, 162—electro-magnetism, 163—the galvanometer, 164-168—earth-currents, 168, 169—duplex telegraphy, 169—172—use of the telegraph during the Franco-German war, 172, 173—of torpedos in war, 177—179.
 Ellis, John, letters from Prideaux, 86, death, 106. See Prideaux.
 Erskine's forensic excellence, 19—speech on Howard v. Bingham, 22—comparative failure as a parliamentary speaker, 36.
 Esnandes, cultivation of mussels at,
 483.

F.

- Fawcett, Mrs., 'Political Economy for beginners,' 133. See Economic Laws.

- Fell, Dean, anecdote of, by Prideaux, 86, 94.
 Fiji, its annexation to England, 199—inhabitants, 200—missionary work, 201.
 Fisheries, the Lobster, Crab, and Oyster, 474—diminution of supply, 475—increased consumption, 476—waste of fish-life, 477, 479—warfare among fish, 477—British oyster supply, 478—present scarcity of crabs and lobsters, 479, 480—the 'berried' hens, 481—crabs, decrease in size, 482—bait, ib.—mussels, 483—mode of cultivation in France, 483, 490, 491—Bœuf's discovery of oyster culture, 484—increase in price, 485 —scalps, 487—oyster 'ploys' in Edinburgh, 489—oyster fisheries in Ireland, ib.—in America, 491, 492
 —Report from the Select Committee, 492—495—Act of Parliament to amend the law relating to the fisheries, 498.
 Forster, Mr., his speech at Bradford,
 577.

G.

- Gallenga, A., 'Two Years of the Eastern Question,' 580—interview with General Ignatieff, 581—with Sir Henry Elliott, ib.
 Galvani's discovery of current electricity, 147.
 Galvanometer, the, 164—168.
 Garrow, described by Lord Abinger, 42.
 Gauss's investigation of terrestrial magnetism, 141.
 Germanicus, house of, at Rome, 60. See
 Art and Archaeology.
 Gladstone, Mr., his speech at Birmingham, 287—at Hawarden Castle, 558, 573—at Nottingham, 559, 574—his invective, 563—invitation to war, 564—opinion of the Turks, 565—speech at Blackheath, 566—reflects upon the honour of the official representatives in Turkey, 570, 574.
 Gold question, the, 120—126. See Economic Laws.
 Gortschakoff's, Prince, circular, 304.
 Granville's, Lord, speech at Bradford, 577.
 Grueber, Rev. G. C., Letter to the Bishop of Bath and Wells, 248.
 Gubernatis, de, Prof., on the effect of politics upon Italian poets and prose writers, 448.
 Gutta-percha, its manufacture, 162—adulteration, ib.

H.

- Hanstein, Prof., his theory of the four poles, 140.
 Harris, Sir W. S., note on the coincidences in the numbers deduced by Halley, 140.
 Harrison, F., denies the immortality of the soul, 527, 528—or mention of it in the Bible, 529—his epitaph on Comte, 538.
 Haywood, Mr., experiments on pavements, 424—relative merits of granite, asphalt and wood, 425-428.
 Hearn, Prof., on the order of settlement from the less to the more fertile soils, 113.
 Hemans's, C. I., 'Historic and Monumental Rome,' 81.
 Holy oils, consecration of the, 259. See Ridsdale Judgment.
 Howorth, H. H., History of the Mongols, 351—mistakes in Chinese and Persian names, 353—character of Jenghiz Khan, 369.

I.

- Ideals, the Three Extremes, 380—the military, 382—Julius Cæsar, the eternal example of militarism, 382—its fall, 383—the Pope the true successor of the Emperors of Rome, 384—the military ideal no longer exists, 385—the inward spirit changed, 386—antagonistic sentiments of France and Germany, 386—sympathy and knowledge the central aim of modern nations, 387—intervention, 388—system of the Church of Rome, 389—its unity, 390—cause of her severance with that of England, 391—increase of clemency and humanity, 393—her contempt for the fruits of civilisation, 395—sins of omission and want of vital energy, 395—the socialistic ideal of recent origin, 397—its extreme form, 398—theoretical socialism, 399—laws to limit inequalities, 400—duty or power of the state, 400-402—Mill's broad and philosophical socialism, 403-405—attitude of the artisan population of England, 405—trades-unions, 406—arbitration, 407—dependence of workmen on their employers, 408—co-operation, ib.—its difficulties, 409-411—summary of socialism, 411, 412.
 Italian Poets, Contemporary, 446—prejudicial action of the political and social movement, 447-449—contempt for Metastasio, 449—influence of University professors on poetry, 450—exclusion of women from literary concerns, 451—Alcaldi and Prati, 451-460—Carducci, 460—his radicalism and socialism, 461—poems, 461-465—Zanella, 466, 467—Arnaboldi, 468-474.

J.

- Jalâlludin, succeeds Muhammed, 364—escapes to Ghazni, 365—to Delhi, 366—marries the daughter of the sultan, 371—captures Tiflis, 371—attacked by the Mongols and assassinated, 371, 372.
 Jenghiz Khan, 358—war with China, 359-363—death, 368—character, 369. See Mongols.

L.

- Labour-traffic in New Guinea and Polynesia, 199.
 Lafayette's influence and position, 322, 323.
 Leyden jar, invention of the, 153. See Electricity.
 Liberal Party, the, and Foreign Politics, 555—the 'Daily News' on the conduct of Russia, 557—responsibility of those who have contributed to the war, ib.—Russian philanthropy, 558—Mr. Gladstone's speeches, 558, 559—difficulties of Turkey, 560—feeble administration of Mahmoud Pasha, ib.—energy of Midhat Pasha, 561—Alliance of the three Emperors, ib.—the Berlin Memorandum, 562—horror of the crimes in Bulgaria, 563—character of the Turks, 565—their position before the war, 567—reflections upon the honour of our official representatives, 570, 571-574—horrors of the war, 571-573—the agency of the pro-Russian press, 579—M. Gallenga, 580-582—financial state of Russia and Turkey, 585.
 Lightning-conductors, their inefficiency, 157.
 Litton Forbes' 'Two Years in Fiji,' 199.
 Lobster, decrease in the supply, and falling-off in size, 479—'berried' hen lobsters, 481, 482, 496; see Fisheries.
 Locke, John, at Oxford, described by Prideaux, 97-99.
 Louis Napoleon, conversation with Odi-

- lon-Barrot, 338—dismisses Changarnier, 346—his coup d'état, 348.
 Louis Philippe's visit to the Hôtel de Ville, 325—its success, 326—his persistent refusal of parliamentary reform, 329—signs his abdication, 336.
 Lowe's, Mr., speech at Croydon about the Turks, 576.

M.

- Macleod, H. D., 'The Principles of Economical Philosophy,' 129.
 Mahmoud Pasha, 560. See Liberal Party.
 Mamertine prisons, the, their extension discovered, 55.
 Mansfield, Lt.-Col., to Earl Granville, on the religious disturbances in Poland, 295-297.
 Mehemet Ali, entertains Odilon-Barrot, 331, 332—treatment of his cooks, 332.
 Metastasio, contempt for, 449. See Italian Poets.
 Midhat Pasha, 561.
 Mill, J. S., on broad and philosophical socialism, 403-405.
 Mithras, worship of, records found in Rome, 69, 72.
 Mongols, History of the, 351—their habits, 354—warfare, hunts, 355—first mention of, ib.—Oriental genealogies, ib.—the birth of Budantsar, 356—of Temujin, ib.—his marriage, 357—reign, 358—accepts the title of Jenghis Khan, ib.—war with China, 359—conquests, 360, 361—fate of Bukhara, 362—of Samarkand, and death of Muhammed, 363—fate of Nessa, 364—bravery of the Turks under Jalalludin, 365—destruction of Ghazni, Herat and Merv, 366—the Kipehaks seek the aid of the Russians, 367—Mukuli's campaign and death, 367—conquest of Hia, 368—death of Jenghiz Khan, ib.—succeeded by Oghotai, 371—death of Jalaluddin, 372—Bulgar and Riazan captured, ib.—Kief destroyed, 373—excesses in Hungary, 374—death of Oghotai, ib.—Batu recalled, ib.—Kuyuk's reign and death, 375—Mangu elected, ib.—missionaries sent by Rome to his court, 376—accession of Khubilai, 377—encourages Chinese scholars, ib.—conquers China, and becomes virtually Emperor, 378—death, ib.—end of the Mongol Dynasty, 379.
 Moresby, Capt., on New Guinea and Polynesia, 186.

- Morinus, 'De Sacris Ecclesie Ordinationibus,' 541—result of his investigations, 543.
 Muhammed, Shah of Khuarezm, 361—pursued by Jenghiz Khan, 363—death, ib.—nominates his successor, 364.
 Muschenbroek, Prof., accidental invention of the Leyden jar, 153—experiments on his friends, 154.
 Musgrave, Sir A., on the consumption of articles of luxury, 126.
 Mussels for bait, 482—mussel farm at Esmannes, 483.

N.

- National Interests and National Morality, 277—the lesson taught by the Crimean War, 278—its religious colouring, 280—parallel between 1853 and 1877, 281—opinion of the mass of the nation, ib.—English interests, 282—our new political machinery, 284—morality of nations and individuals, 286—Mr. Gladstone's speech at Birmingham, 287—line of argument adopted by the Duke of Argyll, 288-291—'sentiment' the authority for the guidance of the mass of people, 291—the present crisis, 294—atrocities perpetrated in Poland, 295-297—religious persecution in Russia, 298—Russian foreign policy, 298-301—Prince Gortschakoff's letter, 304—England's trade with Persia, 306—the fleet at Besika Bay, 308.
 New Guinea and Polynesia, 179—first discovered, 180—geological connection with Australia, 182—character of its coast, 183-186—fauna, 187—flora, fruits, vegetables, 188—mineral productions, 188, 189—climate, 189—inhabitants, 189, 190—relationship of Malays and Polynesians, 190-194—cannibalism, 194—the 'tabu,' 195—daily life, 196—women, 197—houses, ib.—tools, 198—labour-traffic, 199—annexation of Fiji, ib.—decline of the population, 203—the Sandwich islands, 204, 205—question of annexation, 206—the 'New Guinea Colonising Association,' 208.
 O.
 Odilon-Barrot, Memoirs of, 311—early years, 312—graduates as advocate, 313—in M. Mailhe's Cabinet, ib.—succeeds him, 314—the terreur blanche, ib.—attempt to restore a 'State Church,' 315 — accused of atheism, 316—made a member of the Opposition, 317—brought before the Assize Court, found 'not guilty,' 318 —the Polignac ministry, ib.—celebrated address of the 221 members, ib.—president of the society 'Aide-toi, le ciel t'aidera,' 319—banquet to the 221, 320—his marriage, 321—the revolution of 1830, 321–323—indifference of Charles X., 325—Louis Philippe's visit to the Hôtel de Ville, 325, 326—accompanies Charles X. to Cherbourg, 327, 328—appointed Prefect of the Seine, 328—popular indignation against the ex-ministers, 329—leader of the dynastic opposition, 330—view of the Ottoman empire, 331—visits Cairo, ib.—reform banquets, 333—defiant attitude of the Government, 334—interview with the King, 335—provisional government proclaimed, 337—President of the Commission of Enquiry, ib.—conversation with Louis Napoleon, 338—describes him, 339—resigns, but is induced to resume his duties, 340—his services dispensed with, 341—consulted by Changarnier, 343—summoned to form a new ministry, 347—arrested and released, 349—accepts the Presidency of the Council of State, 350—death, ib.—character, 350, 351.

Oersted's discovery of electro-magnetism, 163. See Electricity.

Oratory Worship, 270.

Ordination and Confession, 539—the ancient Ordinals, 540, 545—researches of Morinus, 541–543—Bull issued by Pope Eugenius IV. at the Council of Florence, 544—the 4th Canon of the Council of Trent, 544—ancient Greek rite of ordination, 545–548—ancient Latin ordination offices, 548–550—the Romish use, 550, 551—the Anglican Communion, 552—Bp. Andrewes on Ordination, 552—compulsory confession, 553.

Ornaments Rubric, judgment on the, 249–252.

Oxford Gossip in the Seventeenth Century, 81—Balliol College, 89, 90—death of David Whitford, 93—Van Trump, 95.

Oysters, value consumed in the course of a year, 478, 479—culture, 484, 490, 491—advance in price, 485—spat, 485–487—brood, 487—scalps, 487, 488. See Fisheries.

P.

Palatine, the recent discoveries on, 57.

Pavements, 423. See Carriages.

Petronilla, church of St., on the Campagna, 73.

Pidgeon family, effects of lightning, 161, 162.

Poland, religious persecutions in, 295–297.

Polignac and the ex-ministers, popular indignation against, 329.

Porson, Richard, 6—capacity for tea-drinking, ib.—memory, 7.

Porta Capena, site of the ancient, discovered by Mr. Parker, 70.

Prati, Giov., his 'Edmenegarda,' 451—compared with 'Arnaldo di Roca,' 454, 455—his lyrics and ballads, 456—'Armando,' 457—'Psiche,' 457.

Prideaux, Humphrey, early years, 82—at Christ Church, Oxford, 83—character, ib.—letters to his sister, 84, 85—to his friend Ellis, 86—abuse of Woodroffe, 88, 93—on Sir Philip Sidney, 91, 92—Van Trump, 95—John Locke, 97, 98—at Norwich, 102—marriage, ib.—describes Fairfax, Dean of Norwich, 104, 105—death of his wife, 105.

R.

Ré, Ile de, oyster culture at, 484.

Rents, the Ricardian theory, 110—high during the French war, 112—vary according to locality, 114.

Republic, the New, and Modern Philosophers, 515—character of the host, 516—the guests, 517—the aim of life discussed, 518–521—the Doctor's sermon, 522—Uncle Laurence's Essay and poems, 524—the banquet, 525—Mr. Herbert's sermon, ib.—the new sceptical school, 526—advantages and drawbacks of signed articles, 526, 527—Mr. F. Harrison's opinions, 527–530—Prof. Clifford's attacks on Christianity, 530, 531—cosmic emotion, 532—Leslie Stephen's views, 533—morality of the Positivist school, 534—M. Comte's system of Positive Philosophy, 535—his religious worship, 536—nine sacraments, 537—epitaph by Mr. Harrison, 538.

Richmann, Prof., fatal experiment in electricity, 156, 157.

Ridsdale Judgment and the Priest in Absolution, 242—present crisis in the Church of England, 244, 245—resentment spreading among the laity, 245—general result of the decision, 246—language used by the organs and spokesmen of the Ritualists, 247, 248—Ornaments Rubric, 249-252—Mr. Tooth's conduct applauded by the Church Union, 254—repudiation of the authority of the Privy Council, 255—Canon Carter, ib.—'High' and 'Low' celebrations, 257—consecration of Holy Oils, 259—anointing the sick, 260—transubstantiation, ib.—office for Confession, 261—'Hints for the Priest in examining the Penitent,' 264, 265—confession of a lady, 266—confession for children, 268, 269—'Oratory Worship,' 270—the Eastward position, 272—auricular confession, 273.

Ritualists, the language used by their organs and spokesmen, 247.

Roads, 423. See Carriages.

Rochdale Pioneers' Co-operative Society, 410.

Rome, the Church of, its ideal, 389. See Ideals.

Russia, progress of, in the East, 298-300—religious persecution in, 298—her invasion of Turkey in 1828, 301—her position in Armenia, 306—in Persia, 307.

Russian army, probable strength of the, 222—plan of invasion, 234—movements, 237.

—— foreign policy, 298.

S.

San Clemente, discovery of the site of an oratory near, 71.

Sandwich islands, the, decline of the population, 204.

Santa Maria Maggiore, artistic treasures recently discovered in, 75-78.

Silver panic, the, 123.

Socialism, its ideal, 397—theoretical, 399. See Ideals.

Statilius, columbarium of, 65-68.

Steam-rollers, mistaken weight of, 424.

Stephen's, Leslie, view of morality, 533, 534.

Submarine telegraph cable, rate of transmission, 155—manufacture, 162.

Symner's theory of electricity, 148.

T.

Telegraph, the use of, during the Franco-German war, 172, 173—employment of civilians or soldiers, 175—construction of, in the Ashantee war, 175—the field electric-telegraph, 177.

Thiers', M., defence of Changarnier, 345, 346—arrest, 348.

Thomson, Sir W., address to the Society of Telegraph Engineers, 141-143—experiments on the galvanometer, 166.

Thurlow's, Judge, vindication of his position and profession, 35.

Tindal, Ld. Chief-Justice, anecdotes of by Lord Abinger, 27.

Torpedo, use of, in war, 177-179.

Trades' Unions, 406—fail to intervene for the moral welfare of the workmen, 407.

Tramways, 430. See Carriages.

Transubstantiation, consubstantiation, or impanation, 261.

Trastevere, excavations at, 71.

Trump, Admiral van, at Oxford, 95.

Turkish army, probable strength of the, 223, 236—plans of defence, 239.

U.

Urgendj, fate of, 364.

V.

Vesta, temple of, discovery of the basement, 53.

Via Sacra, position of the, 51.

Volta discovers the means of producing a continuous current, 147.

W.

Walker, F. A., the Wages Question, 135—on co-operative association, 135-137—the wage-fund theory, 138.

War in the East, the, 211—preparations of Russia, 213—and intrigues throughout the Turkish empire, ib.—difficulty of crossing the Danube, 214-220—pestilential marshes, 221—want of water, 222—probable strength of the Russian army, ib.—of the Ottoman, 223, 236—the Balkan passes, 223-227—want of trustworthy information, 227—importance of Schumla

- and Varna, 229—of Adrianople, 230
 —inactivity of the Turks, 231—Russian operations, 232—lines of communication between Georgia and Turkish Asia Minor, 233, 234—Russian plan of invasion, 234—movement of the Russian army, 237—Turkish plans of defence, 239.
 Wheatstone's, Sir C., calculations on the speed of electricity, 155.
 Whitford, David, his death, 93.
- Whitstable oyster-beds, 487. See Fisheries.
 Wood, C. F., 'Yachting Cruise in the South Seas,' 199.
 Woodroffe, described by Prideaux, 88.

Z.

- Zanella, Giacomo, his poems, 466, 467.
See Italian Poets.

END OF THE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FOURTH VOLUME.

*Bd. Per.
 Ser.*

